

Big Dream

Valerie June

I have a dream of my own
And it's mine all mine alone
It's been my friend since I was just a girl
It has a life it has a heart
It has a soul and it's a part
Of everything this woman gives the world

And it's a big dream
Big enough to share
Like a rainbow, hanging in the air
And I thank God, for making it come true
Makes me think maybe God's a woman too
Makes me think God's a woman too

There's a full moon tonight
And I'm bathing in its light
As naked as the day that I was born
There is no shame beneath this sky
I have kissed the past goodbye
And mended up my broken heart so torn

With a sweet sound only I can make
And it gets stronger
With every breath I take
And it's all a part of making me feel new
Makes me think maybe God's a woman too
Makes me think God's a woman too
