

Falling outta love with love
Placing all else above
Well, I am willing to let go
Of what was never mine
Whistle of the engine blows
Singing everybody knows
Only thing can't be replaced
Is time

Falling outta love with love
All the things you're dreaming of
Time was just a dusty ground
Bear without the slightest sound
And I am willing to let go
What was never mine
And I am willing to let go
What was never mine

Dancing on the devil's door
Back again and wanting more
Keeps me hanging on
What's in our minds
Looking through the broken glass
Something that we hoped would last
Seeking, searching for what you cannot find

Falling out of love with love
All the things you're dreaming of
Time was just a dusty ground
Bear without the slightest sound
And I am willing to let go
What was never mine
And I am willing to let go
What was never mine
And I am willing to let go
What was never mine
