

Trust The Path

Valerie June

Entering the science of my mind
Never wavering, awake and shine
Sitting with the deepest hue of blue
Let the waves of silence pull me through

Staring through the windows of all souls
Going places only I can go
Meet you there, but where? I cannot say
Path to take can only point the way

Gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way
Trust the path, I'll only point the way
Trust the path, I'll only point the way
Trust the path, I'll only point the way

Promise me you'll venture towards unknown
Every step a new discovery shown
What can be seen all that's always been
I can only point the way for you, my friend

You gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way
You gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way
Oh, trust the path, I'll only point the way
You gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way

When you're down, down, down, down, down
Down, down, down, down, down
Down, down, down, down, down, down, down

Oh, you gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way, I'll only point the way
You gotta trust the path, I'll only point the way, I'll only point the way

Entering the science of my mind
Never wavering, awake and shine
Sitting with the deepest hue of blue
Let the waves of silence pull me through
