

A Little More

Valley

I'm an angel in the dark
I've been around the world with an arrow through my heart
I spent some wishes on the stars
Merry come around
Go right back to the start

Gotta pull myself together baby
Feeling like a broken record lately
I'm an angel in the dark
Hey it's a losing game when you win it like a fraud

It's like every time I walk away
I get a little bit out the door
And then a melody pulls me back
A feeling that I used to have
And I fall a little bit more
A little more
A little more in love

Karah, play me something on the drums

Let's dance to everywhere yeah 'cause you make loving fun
I loaded flowers in a gun
I've been a little crooked eh
It could happen to anyone

Gotta pull myself together baby
Feeling like a broken record lately
I'm an angel in the dark
Hey it's a losing game
Hey it's a losing game

Every time I walk away
I get a little bit out the door
And then a melody pulls me back
A feeling that I used to have
And I fall a little bit more
A little more
A little more in love
A little more
A little more in love

Take me back to Brookfield road
Where the grass has always grown
If you see him then tell Joe
That we did it on our own

That we dressed for better weather
If it rains he'll say, "Whatever."
'Cause the band is back together
The band is back together

Every time I walk away
I get a little bit out the door
Until a memory brings me back
Me and Alex had a laugh
Don't you know I've always got your back?

A little more
A little more
A little more
A little more in love
A little more
A little more in love

'Cause I'm a fake and a phony
Do you really wanna know me?
I don't wanna miss your loving tonight
You pulled me out of the gutter
Like a sail to a rudder
No. I really need your loving tonight
