

CHAMPAGNE

Valley

Another night alone
You wonder why I'm always getting stoned
'Cause baby when I'm low, you never come around

You tell me that you care
So tell me why you're always over there
And when I'm shining, you, you're the thunder cloud
When I'm thriving, you pull me under ground

You can break my heart, I'm not broken
I can build a house with the stones you're throwin'
I'm not a dreamer, it ain't always greener
But I'll turn this pain into champagne

My head is always sore
It ain't even from the night before
Oh, baby, I'm so over getting hung over you
It's out of my control when all you are is hypocritical
Oh, when I'm your puppet, you fuckin' love it

You can break my heart, I'm not broken
I can build a house with the stones you're throwin'
I'm not a dreamer, it ain't always greener
But I'll turn this pain into champagne

Another maze and I made it out
I take the pain and I pour it out
You know there's nothing left to save me but this champagne

I'm not a dreamer, it ain't always greener
But I'll turn this pain into champagne

You can break my heart, I'm not broken
I can build a house with the stones you're throwin'
I'm not a dreamer, it ain't always greener
But I'll turn this pain into champagne

But I'll turn this pain into champagne
