

Say

Valley

Funny how my heart's just a toy you keep tugging around
I talk you out into the night
Still I want you here by my side, but you're wasting your time away
Couldn't find the stairs, you're everywhere and you're stumbling
I sneak you covers in the night, night, night, night
Waiting for my name against your mouth, but it's filling your lungs
Why don't you tell me now a little something

How do you do it, you're cross and turning and
I get confused, I'm just a man who gets stuck in the moment
Now acting foolish, I lay my head down
I've been tired of you for far too long
If you're living it up and you're on your own
If you don't want this or nothing at all
Then I don't need ya

Money, rent, new car
Feels just like giving up
Always rushed, always home
Thinking 'bout the two of us
Ran and locked your love, you found me
(Are we doing the same?)
Most days I'm barely holding on to something

How do you do it, you're cross and turning and
I get confused, I'm just a man who gets stuck in the moment
Now acting foolish, I lay my head down
I've been tired of you for far too long
If you're living it up and you're on your own
If you don't want this or nothing at all
Then I don't need ya

I know I'm sick, I know I don't believe in it
Glad you checked in
I'll be honest with you, it's something I never had
I know she's sick, I know she don't believe in it
Lost her soul and all she ever wanted was
To be there for him
Well she was my best friend
Sometimes he still hears her, crying
Oh God, do you listen?
After all of this, show me something I can feel, don't weaken
My best friend, let her rest then
And when she gives in
(How) Don't you just listen?

(How, do you do)
(Ha, ha, ha)
(How do you do)
All of this, just say it
All of this, just say it
All of this, just say it
All of this, just say it (How do you do)
All of this, just say it (How do you do it)
All of this, just say it
All of this, just say it (How do you do it)
All of this, just say it (Say)

All of this, just say it (How do you do it?)
All of this, just say it (You're cross and turning and)
All of this, just say it (I get confused, I'm just a)
I don't need ya
