

On Highways (Aug 4)

Vallis Alps

Every step you took
You're always on your way
But I would never look
I got lost instead

I was only there once, it's true
I could only hold out my hands
'Cause I need you now more than ever, I've been running
And I told you once, I been healing, but I'm burning today
Don't throw it all away
I was only there once, it's true

On highways
We built with sand, I knew you
On highways
I held your hands, I knew you

So I asked myself how to be alone
I could not pretend
I was always strong
So I asked myself how to be alone
I could not pretend
I was always strong
