

I feel like you live in a different universe
Wrapped in a silhouette, a curse
Oh how your blindness cracks the dirt
I talk to you and I watch all our thoughts disperse
It's just a silhouette, a burst
Oh how our silence cracks the earth

Ooh, ooh ooh
Ooh, ooh ooh
It's just a silhouette, a burst
Oh how our silence cracks the earth

I only wanted what you wanted
You always seem to cross the line
We got a million scores to settle
But I can't put up a fight
Can't even say what got us started
So who even cares who is right?
You and I, you and I
Only problem with me and you
Is you and I

I feel like you live in a different universe
We used to talk until it hurt
And now I wonder what it's worth, ooh
We're hard wired to be better but we're worse
And now our silence is a curse
Look how our violence cracks the earth

I only wanted what you wanted
You always seem to cross the line
We got a million scores to settle
But I can't put up a fight
Can't even say what got us started
So who even cares who is right?
You and I, you and I
Only problem with me and you
Is you and I

When we're down
Let it out, let me in
I don't wanna begin this again
But let's just try
Oh let's just try

I only wanted what you wanted
You always seem to cross the line
We got a million scores to settle
But I can't put up a fight
Can't even say what got us started
So who even cares who is right?
You and I, you and I
Only problem with me and you
Is you and I
Only problem with me and you
Is you and I
