

Forgotten

Valora

Don't remember the night,
the burn of your eyes,
the moment I first knew you were mine.

You made me fall,
I just can't recall,
the beginning and how you stole it all.

Oh I never thought someone could kill my soul.
You held me in your arms as I let you go,
and now I'm all alone.

Oh, oh that's what I get for falling out of love.
Oh, oh that's what I get for fading out your touch.
This is my punishment for ever giving up,
we've finally become, forgotten.
Forgotten.

You made me alive,
how could I decide
to let all the memories just die?

Everything I did was to forget,
this overwhelming crush I'm feeling of regret,
that pushed me off the edge.

Oh, oh that's what I get for falling out of love.
Oh, oh that's what I get for fading out your touch.
This is my punishment for ever giving up,
we've finally become, forgotten.

I no longer feel you,
not the way I used to,
and there's nothing beautiful,
so far from what I once knew.

Oh, oh that's what I get for falling out of love.
Oh, oh that's what I get for fading out your touch.
This is my punishment for ever giving up,
we've finally become, forever undone,
forgotten.