

The Dead Don't Sleep

Vampires Everywhere!

And now the sun is shining
Cauterize my eyes into the sea
Involved in mass destruction
Stitch my mouth shut, throw away the key
I feel it fading past the point of no return
I sacrificed myself I came back bruised and burned

You fail to listen
Hopeful superstition

The dead don't sleep
Hell is suppose to get me
Wake up wake up, are you listening
You stitched my heart
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts

That's what you said you wanted
Now your blood is slowly killing me
I'm falling into nothing
Lost inside this [?] dream
I feel it fading past beyond my expectations
God gave up breathing for just one last conversation

You fail to listen
Hopeful superstition

The dead don't sleep
Hell is suppose to get me
Wake up wake up, are you listening
You stitched my heart
Love is made from broken parts

The dead don't sleep
Hell is suppose to get me
Wake up wake up, are you listening
You stitched my heart
Love is made from broken parts

Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts

You won't get hurt the way that you can
Get up get up, the plot is thickening
You won't get hurt the way that you can
Get up get up, the plot is thickening

You fail to listen
Hopeful superstition

The dead don't sleep
Hell is suppose to get me
Wake up wake up, are you listening
You stitched my heart

Love is made from broken parts

The dead don't sleep
Hell is suppose to get me
Wake up wake up, are you listening
You stitched my heart
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts
Love is made from broken parts
