

Timebomb

Vampires Everywhere!

Out of the shadows into the rain
Turn up the radio again to numb the pain
Far past addiction, oh, my life has turned to stone
This perfect little picture my dark black soul

And the monsters come to eat
All the pieces that you leave
And you'll see me there
When the light fades out
I'll throw my life in

I never want to try again
It's time to let the heartache in
My body is a time bomb
My pulse is on the clock
I'm sorry to be obvious
I never want to hit and miss
My body is a time bomb
My body is a time bomb

Inside the madness out of the grave
I pulled the weakest chord to hold onto the fame
I found the empty, oh, I found it alone
Just a bunch of serpents that want my soul

And the monsters come to eat
All the pieces that you leave
And you'll see me there
When the light fades out
I'll throw my life in

I never want to try again
It's time to let the heartache in
My body is a time bomb
My pulse is on the clock
I'm sorry to be obvious
I never want to hit and miss
My body is a time bomb
(My body is a time bomb...)

It's hard to believe
Believe your innocent (innocent)
It's hard to believe
Believe your innocent (innocent)

Why do you hold me down
Why do you hold me down
And try to bleed me out

I never want to try again
It's time to let the heartache in
My body is a time bomb
My pulse is on the clock
I'm sorry to be obvious
I never want to hit and miss
My body is a time bomb
My body is a time bomb

I never want to try again
My pulse is on the clock
I never want to hit and miss
My body is a time bomb
My body is a time bomb
