

Darkest Days

Van Canto

Crowded paths in the cold
With dark, possessive souls
Bound by my black, compelling fears
Alien aims in mind

At the forest's edge, a narrow trail
Will lead up to the source, releasing

Darkest days
Spawning an unseen maze
One burning heart
Keen to survive and move apart

Survive, survive, survive
Still willing to fight

On fragile, steep, mouldy steps
Alluring vivid heights
The sun will shine in your eyes
Transformation waits

The gateway passed
Fears behind determined to Relieve deluding

Darkest days
Spawning an unseen maze
One burning heart
Keen to survive and move apart

Survive, survive, survive
Still willing to fight
Survive, survive, survive
Enduring the night

Bending time unflustered
The earth is turning faster
Debris align in bluster
Oscillating merge
Purge and converge

Darkest days
Spawning an unseen maze
One burning heart
Keen to survive and move apart
Darkest days
Spawning an unseen maze
One burning heart
Keen to survive and move apart

Survive, survive, survive
Enduring the night
Survive, survive, survive
Embracing the light
