

Desert Snake

Van Canto

Find your lost dreams
In her silent screams
Find your lost dreams
In her silent screams
For your lost dreams
Find your lost dreams

Endless winds, her tail deep in the sand
Goes astray within the desert land
Without a hand she lets her kingdom expand
A lonely lost soul moving through the day
Still crawling when the moon has found its way
The only mortal left that has survived
The deadly plague

In the desert storm from the torn she rose
Constantly the sound of her sweet voice grows
(Forever her sound will grow)

Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake

Won't be unheard anymore
Through endless winds and skies I am
The hand you reach for
Let your, legend never end
In the distant sands
Feed my hunger to be free
Let us both prevail
Defeat me

Distant sighs
Hear the future mirrored in her cries
Look into her sighs

Find your lost dreams
In her silent screams
Find your lost dreams
In her silent screams

Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake
Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake
Yeah!

In the desert storm from the torn she rose
From the desert storm in your dreams she grows
Constantly the sound of her sweet voice grows

Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake
Yeah!

Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake
Oh!

Hear the calling from the, desert snake
Silent screams make your, wild heart shake
Can't ignore the calling, of the snake
Yeah!
Desert snake!
