

Heading Home

Van Canto

Why did I always fear
The day our end draws near?
Let me sing you a tale
Of an unknown trail
That will keep our spirit alive

So for now, a last farewell
Ending stories we must tell
As per providence we roam
We are heading back home

Again, I awake in yesterday
Tomorrow, it moved lightyears away
And the pain that I fear
For as long as I'm here
To return is an everlasting fight

So for now, a last farewell
Ending stories we must tell
As per providence we roam
We are heading back home

On this road we're marching on
When the time has finally come
It will be an exciting one

So for now, a last goodbye
Ceasing tales of dragons' eyes
As per providence we roam
We are heading back home

So for now, a last farewell
Ending stories we must tell
As per providence we roam
We are heading back home

So for now, a last goodbye
Ceasing tales of dragons' eyes
As per providence we roam
We are heading back home
