

Bit By Bit

Van Morrison

Well I'm learnin'
how to love you.
Yes I'm learnin'
how to love you
in my own,
in my own
special way.

I been bad to you,
baby, you know it.
I been bad to you,
baby, don't you know it,
and sometimes
you just can't help but show it.

But I'm learnin', learnin'
how to love you.
Well I'm learnin', learning
how to love you
in-a my own,
in my own
special way.

Day by day,
bit by bit.
Day by day,
a-bit by bit,
day by day
in my own,
in-a my own
special way.

It takes a little time
to get around
to doin' it my way.
I'm gettin' around to it,
bit by bit,
in my own way.

Day by day,
a-bit by bit,
a-bit by bit by bit by bit by bit by bit by day by day
in my own,
in my own
special way.

Day by day,
a-day by day, yeah, yeah baby,
a-bit by bit by bit by bit by bit by bit by bit day by day
in my own,
in my own special way.

Baby,
come on babe,
come on babe,
hey yeah, right now,
every every every every every day, yeah

in-a my own,
in-a my own,
in-a my own way, yeah.
Come on babe,
[come on babe].

Hey, Where Are You

And the raincoat shone into the sun as we walked down the street as one into the [all pleasant ?] bloom of a Saturday afternoon.
And we strolled the walls and kicked our heels upon the grass on which we fell and sang a song we loved to sing so well, and the raindrops came on down on Sally's head
as she cuddled up inside a coat of red and said,
"Hey, where are you?
Where you goin' to? yeah, yeah
Oh, why can't I come too?
'stead of leavin' me here
oh so lonely, lonely, lonely, wait on me.
Wait on me.
Wait on me."

And into the trees and forest we did roam, the way we danced into the sparkling foam shining our light into the days of blooming wonder,
and the gray man at the bus station raised his head into the sky and said, "
Have you got your ticket?" I said, "I got it, how?
But I got it." "Pass on through the swingin' barrier now."
And the raindrops came on down on Sally's head and she cuddled up inside a coat of red and said,
"Hey, where are you?
Where you goin' to?
Why can't I come too?
instead of leavin' me here
oh so lonely,
oh so lonely, lonely,
lonely, just wait on me.
Wait on me, babe.
I can't keep up, I can't keep up, I can't keep up.
Hey fellas,
a-wait a minute, wait a minute, wait a minute,
I can't keep up.
Wait a minute, wait a minute,
you gotta stop,
wait on me.
Wait on me.
I can't keep up, I can't keep up, I can't keep up, you gotta wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, yeah, yeah.
Wait a minute, wait a minute,
hey, hey, hey, yeah,
hold on,
you gotta stop.
I can't keep up, can't keep up, I can't keep up, you gotta,
hey, yeah,
hold on, hold on,
wait on me.
Wait on me.
Wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, wait on me, yeah, yeah, alright.
Baby, baby.

Don't go,
please don't go.
Please don't go.
