Does Love Conquer All?

Van Morrison

How can I rise above?
How can I conquer love?
Please don't hesitate
Before it gets too late

How can I rise above?
How can I conquer with love?
Well if they're saying I'm wrong
I've got to say it in song

And does it make any difference if I say it in song?
Does it make any difference, difference at all?
Does it make any difference if love is the law?
Does it make any difference? Does love conquer all?

How can I rise above?
Can I conquer with love?
Standing at your gate
Seems to be getting late

It's time to work it all out
Know what I'm talking about?
Can I rise above?
Say when push comes to shove

And does it make any difference, difference at all?
Does it make any difference if I sing it in song?
Does it make any difference if love is the law?
Does it make any difference or does love conquer all?

How does it rise and fall?
Do I have to put up a wall?
'Cause if there's any doubt
Keep the enemy out

I'm standing by your door
Well, I've been hurt before
But if love is the law
Surely love conquers all

And does it make any difference, just singing a song?
Make any difference, difference at all?
Does it make any difference? Love is the law
Does it make any difference or does love conquer all?

How can I rise above?
Does love conquer all?
Headed for a fall
And love conquers all

If love is the law, then
Then love must conquer all
