

My World Is Empty Without You

Vanilla Fudge

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe

And as I go my way alone
I find it hard for me to carry on
I need your warmth, I need your tender touch
I need the love you know that I miss so much

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe

From this whole world I try to hide my face
But from this loneliness there is no hiding place
Inside this cold and empty house I dwell
Here in the darkness, that I know so well

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe

I need your love now more than before
I can hardly carry on anymore

My world is empty without you babe
My world is empty without you babe
