

The Final Stand

Vanir

Today we meet our destiny
Where the earth meets the sky
Where all who lives will prosper
And all who don't shall die
Sacrifice of blood and gore
Rewards of coin and flesh
As we join the ranks eiherjer
This is our proudest crest

We fight as one tonight
We take our final stand
Where men becomes legends and gods
And God becomes a man

As he lays on the ground eyes fixed at the sky
Flesh wound bleeding from his back
As he bleed out and die
My legacy my home I owe
For my family i long
There is no place for regret

we fight as one tonight
As we take our final stand
When a man becomes a legend and gods
And God becomes a man

Our banners raised high In the wind
Trembling hands holding the hilts
As the ground beneath us shakes
Courage, honor becomes our will

Every man or woman
Must carve their own destiny
They must take what is rightfully theirs
Then their deeds shall pave the way

If one shall fall
Fighting for what is right
Then a seat will await them
At the table in ODIN's hall

We fight as one tonight
As we take our final stand
When a man becomes a legend and gods
And God becomes a man
