

fade away

vaultboy

Think back
Do you remember your birthday?
Everyone hanging around
Said that you're finally happy
But you're forgetting it now
You didn't want any candles
Said you got all that you need
Now you don't know what you're missing
And you've been starting to think

A little too much
Saying you're not enough
Nothing's ever enough

But you've been way too hard on yourself lately
Acting like somebody else, hating
Watching that smile of yours just fade away
You've been dancing close to the edge
Falling into that spiral again
With this look like you just want it to end, and fade away
(Hey)

Think back
When did the smallest emotions, mmh
Become so big in your brain?
You don't know what changed
It drives you insane

You've been way too hard on yourself lately (You've been way too hard)
Acting like somebody else, hating (Still acting like you're somebody else)
Watching that smile of yours just (Oh, watching it fade away)
Fade away (Fading away, know you've been)
You've been dancing close to the edge (Dancing)
Falling into that spiral again (And you get this look)
With this look like you just want it to end and
Fade away

I know you're doing your best, I love you to death
But that pain in your head, I promise it ends (Oh, I promise it ends, yeah)

You've been way too hard on yourself lately
Acting like somebody else, hating
Watching that smile of yours just
Fade away
You've been dancing close to the edge
Falling into that spiral again
With this look like you just want it to end and (Da-da-da-da-da-da-da-da)
Fade away

Don't fade away (Don't you go fading away)
Yeah, yeah, yeah (I see you fading, oh, I see you fading)
(And, oh, spiraling out of control, spiraling out of it)
