

Hurricane

Vaults

You're holding on
Just to feel something that hurts
You're loveless
And the blood that drains
From your fingers to the ground
Leaves you heartless

And I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane
I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane

The final word
You spoke was to the floor
You're loveless
Then you wanted more
You knew deep down inside
You're just heartless

And I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane
I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane

Why don't you want to try again
And get through
It's getting harder and harder to be so whole
Oh, the more you try and face, the less you
Are blown apart by the weight of it

And I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the sky
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane
I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane
I feel like we're letting go
As my white flag hits the ground
And everyone feels the same
Picked up and thrown by a hurricane