Can't Stop Fighting

Velcra

Following the road of a pitiful disaster
Fighting through the crowd
Guiding my way it's forever going faster
Lifting me off the ground
The only one to believe
Loose the grip and you can't stop sliding
The only one to believe
Restrain myself but I can't stop fighting
Who will know how long you will be fine
Turn around I'm right behind
Now the journey's all complete
What you once drained out of me
I've come to claim back and you'll see
Whatever it is whoever it was that brought you down into this w orld
Won't really mean that much cause you won't be able ever to rec all
All along the days are growing darker
Holding on to this sound
Leaving behind all the bitter disappointment
This sorrow will never be found
Grinning eyes that deny
You're never known to be what you're showing Ringing words that defy
You're lies are made up of what you're glowing
