I know a place that I'm going to burn down Let it go I don't think I really want to play again Take me to the place I used to love so much I don't think I really to say it again So alive So in love So live Stroke me anywhere And I'll be cold Love comes down And pushes to the middle of life My love Say it again And I will follow you anywhere My pretty sister