VENUES

Somehow this place
Can't hold my sanity anymore
Every second we could fall

This isn't me
Don't ask who I'll be
All we know are our thoughts
And time will not waste me
This time, time won't waste me

Why won't you walk alone?
Scratching memories on a wall
All your life you have to find
How to feel alive

Why don't you take a breath?
Give your soul some peace from death
Take a look, make up your mind
Take a look at yourself

A heavy crown in a lonely castle
I pray my legs won't give in
This throne once grew on me
You'll never see this face again

This time, time won't waste me
This time, time won't waste me
This time, time won't waste me

Why won't you walk alone?
Scratching memories on a wall
All your life you have to find
How to feel alive

Why don't you take a breath?
Give your soul some peace from death
Take a look, make up your mind
Take a look at yourself

Come dawn and swallow me whole
'Cause I know, I'm goddamn sure
This time, time won't waste me
I'm really better off without a fucking key
I pray my legs will not give in
You will never see this face again
I beg my lungs not to collapse
Along the way, along the path

Why won't you walk alone?
Scratching memories on a wall
All your life you have to find
How to feel alive

Why don't you take a breath?
Give your soul some peace from death
Take a look, make up your mind

Why won't you walk alone?
Scratching memories on a wall
All your life you have to find
Take a look at yourself

Why don't you take a breath?
Give your soul some peace from death
Take a look, make up your mind

This time, time won't waste me
This time, time won't waste me
This time, time won't waste me
