

Haunted House

VENUES

You will never see my face again
Shut your mouth, bite your tongue, keep your poison
You will never touch my heart again
It is time to rewrite our story

No more wasted thoughts
And no more hope yet for you
Now that you left me on the ground I'm gonna fly away

In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
One day you will find out, this is a haunted house
In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
Before you're going down inside this haunted house

I do not trust this at all
Save your breath, save your words and every single call
I'll run away, I won't fall
It is time to erase our story

Keep your mouth shut
I don't
Don't want to hear one more lie
I'm gonna fly away

In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
One day you will find out, this is a haunted house
In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
Before you're going down inside this haunted house

When you know what it's like to burn all bridges
When you realize you won't ever come back
Only then you will know what I've been through
Rise above, start the fight, never lose track
When you know what it's like to feel betrayal
When you realize what they have all become
Only then you will know what I've been through

Shut up
Keep your mouth shut
I don't
Don't want to hear one more lie

In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
One day you will find out, this is a haunted house
In a way in a way this is holding you down
Run away, run away, baby, don't make sound
Before you're going down inside this haunted house

Inside this haunted house
Inside this haunted house
