

Oblivion

VENUES

Can't find the strength to get up again
My body is an anchor I cannot lift
With no vision and hope keep me far from the shore
I won't reach the surface

This is my, my slow goodbye
I know what to do when the end is nigh
So damn sick and tired
I'm on the edge of giving up

Will you ever leave?
Will you let me breathe?

Everybody knows I'm the one
When it comes to hanging loose and not moving on
Everybody knows
So come on wreck me, wreck me
I fall into oblivion

You bleed me dry (Oblivion)
There is nothing left of me (Oblivion)
You bleed me dry (Oblivion)
I'm so ashamed of what I am

I'm lying here
A heart filled with fear
I know what they
Say when I'm not around
There's not much left
Of what I can become
A waste of skin and bones
A waste of skin and bones

Will you ever leave?
Will you let me breathe?

Everybody knows I'm the one
When it comes to hanging loose and not moving on
Everybody knows
So come on wreck me, wreck me
I fall into oblivion

I turn my weakness to gold
Unlearning all I've been told
Something I misapprehend
Can you explain it again?
We're all the same in the end
This cannot be a dead end
We're all the same in the end
We're all the same in the end
We're all the same
We're all the same in the end

In the end

Everybody knows I'm the one
When it comes to hanging loose and not moving on

Everybody knows
So come on wreck me, wreck me
I fall into oblivion
Oblivion
Oblivion
