VENUES

Reminded to our mortality
Day by day
Listening to the litany
We obey

Roaming around for a lifetime
In a desperate search for a lifeline
The meaning no one can fathom
Unaware, unaware

Can we face the mistakes
When the masquerade fades
We don't dare to
To ask and get what we deserve
When the curtain reveals
What the drama conceals
It has turned to a tragedy, a tragedy
We're the ones to blame and the sufferers

And as we thrive and as we prosper
We are blind
A better place, a spot of bother
Left behind

Roaming around for a lifetime
In a desperate search for a lifeline
The meaning no one can fathom
Unaware, unaware

Can we face the mistakes
When the masquerade fades
We don't dare to
To ask and get what we deserve
When the curtain reveals
What the drama conceals
It has turned to a tragedy, a tragedy
We're the ones to blame and the sufferers

The wind caused us to fall
We lost the breath of life
Not formed to live like animals
For we're not born to fly

We lost the strength divine
Wasting our mortal lives
We found ourselves within the dark
To move the sun and stars

Can we face the mistakes
When the masquerade fades
We don't dare to
To ask and get what we deserve

Can we face the mistakes
When the masquerade fades
We don't dare to

When the curtain reveals
Tragedy, tragedy
