

And now the torn black flag is waving in the Never-ending breeze

And one more day
One more day on this old ship
The wind is right
Right to raid until dawn
I'm the one to decide
Yeah, the Captain decides
Who will live
And who will die

We will make you feel at first-hand
How it's like to walk the plank
And when your cold body sinks down
Creatures will come to watch you drown

Fear in their hearts
Fear in their heads
All this blood that we have shed
Fear in their hearts
Fear in their heads
While the white sails turn to red

All these lost souls are setting sail
Spreading fear over the seas like a bride's black bloodshed veil
No rules upon the seven seas
And now the torn black flag is waving in the never-ending breeze

We ride the waves like a wild horse
And hoist the Jolly now once more

Cause I decided that you will die

Fear in their hearts
Fear in their heads
All this blood that we have shed
Fear in their hearts
Fear in their heads
While the white sails turn to red

All these lost souls are setting sail
Spreading fear over the seas like a bride's black bloodshed veil
No rules upon the seven seas
And now the torn black flag is waving in the never-ending breeze

You will drown in the depths of sea
You will drown in the depths of sea

We will haunt you, we will haunt you
We will haunt you, we will haunt you
We will haunt you, we will haunt you

All these lost souls are setting sail
Spreading fear over the seas like a bride's black bloodshed veil
No rules upon the seven seas
And now the torn black flag is waving in the never-ending breeze
