Give In

Vera Blue

A moment of independence
You turn up unannounced at my door step
I'm not letting you in,
'Cause I don't know where you've been
But then again,
You think you know me well
The minute I slip out of your grip,
You want it all again
The thought of this side
Of you does things to me
That I can't explain

And you're pulling me in, slow time
Got a whole lot of enough to act like this
Taking me for a ride to where I've been before
You're not fooling me once again,
'Cause I know that I deserve better
Won't you pack up and let me in,
'Cause I'm ready to stop feeling like this

You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in
You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in

Comfortable conversation,
Takes me back to the places
And all too soon you're lying next to me,
And I'm okay with it
But I know I shouldn't be

The minute I slip out of your grip,
You want it all again
The thought of this side
Of you does things to me
That I can't explain

And you're pulling me in, slow time
Got a whole lot of enough to act like this
Taking me for a ride to where I've been before
You're not fooling me once again,
'Cause I know that I deserve better
Won't you pack up and let me in
‘Cause I'm ready to stop feeling like this

You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in
You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in

Isn't hindsight an interesting truth?
Why the fuck was I ever with you?
Seeing clearer than ever before
It's the last time you walk out my door

You're not pulling me in tonight
Got a whole lot of enough to act like this

Taking all this shit, goodbye
You're not welcome anymore
You're not fooling me once again,
I always knew that I deserved better
Won't you pack up and let me in
‘Cause I'm ready to stop feeling like this

You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in
You're crawling back to me,
But I won't let myself give in
