Vérité

I was overflowing
More than you were knowing
And the winds were breaking
Fast along the lake we found

Darling you ought to know by now
Darling you ought to know by now

How the signs were growing
Faster than you noticed
My mind was caving
Hoping it could take me out

Darling you ought to know by now
And darling you ought to know by now

All my limbs were floating
Long before the warning
The tides were waving
Too slow to escape the sound

Darling you ought to know by now
Darling you ought to know by now

Four walls and I'm ricocheting
A few pills watch me levitate out of here
So close you should see it on my face by now
By now
By now
By now

I was overflowing
Hoping you would notice
My mind was breaking
Hoping it could take me out

And darling you ought to know by now
And darling you ought to know somehow
And darling you ought to know by now
Darling you ought to know by now
By now
By now
By now
