

You're an ocean
And I'm caught up in a wave
Drowning in the motion
Watching tides and their face
Betting on the change
You know is coming
Yeah, you're a movement
And I'm just standing straight til you can sue me
And leave an empty space like I don't exist
If you don't witness it, oh

Yeah I lose myself in you
Cause I need someone to stay
Late morning when I hate
My body and I need somebody
Dress myself into your skin marks
I'm biting your teeth
For a million machine
Takes over when I need somebody

I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you, oh
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself

You are my sleep and I need to keep from choking
(You are my sleep and I need to keep from choking)
You are my sleep and I need to keep from choking
(You are my sleep and I need to keep from choking)
You are my sleep and I need to keep from choking
Yeah you're a moment, you're a moment in an ocean

Yeah, I lose myself in you
Cause I need someone to blame
Late morning when I hate
My body and I need somebody
Dress myself into your skin marks
I'm biting your teeth
For a million machine
Takes over when I need somebody

I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you, oh
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself

Cause I lose myself in you
Cause I need someone to stay
Late morning when I hate
My body and I need somebody
Dress myself into your skin marks
I'm biting your teeth
For a million machine
Takes over when I need somebody

I lose myself in you til I'm not myself with you
I lose myself in you til I'm not myself
