

I see better in the dark
It takes a while but I adjust
The sky hangs over like a ceiling
The ground is solid steel and
I'm magnetized down

The moon feels hazy in my arms
The fog comes creeping up the lawn
It hits my mouth so I can feel the condensation
Waiting to drown me out

I wish that I could know myself
But I don't want to know
So I wouldn't need nobody else
To come in close

I wish that I could leave myself
But there's nowhere to go
So I wouldn't need nobody else
To come in close

I'm always looking for somebody
I'm always looking for somebody
I'm always looking for somebody
Who can make my body temporarily numb

The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go

The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go
The longer I look up the lower I go

I'm always looking to the sky
Like maybe if I tried to float
Out of my body through my eyes
You could come in close
I'm always looking to the light like
Baby if you want to hold me down
You'd make me want to lose my mind

I'm always looking for somebody
I'm always looking for somebody
I'm always looking for somebody
Who can make my body temporarily numb
