

Coldest Bedroom

Vern Gosdin

There's a cold chill running through my bones tonight
And my heart just reported there's just no end in sight
I turn the heat on high
Pull the blanket around my neck ever so tight
I'm just trying to survive the coldest bedroom
In the country tonight

As her leaving gets older this old bedroom gets colder
And I'm needing her shoulder to cry on
If this cold night gets longer
A little luck I'll make it through alright yes I will
I'm just trying to survive the coldest bedroom
In the country tonight

I turned the TV on the weather record highs
All across these 50 states
But in this cold and lonely bedroom
I've had about as much of this as a man can take
I reached out and touched her pillow
It's as cold as a solid jug of ice
I'm just trying to survive the coldest bedroom
In the country tonight

As her leaving grows older this old bedroom gets colder
God I'm needing her shoulder to cry on
If this cold night gets longer
A little luck I'll make it through alright you bet I will
I'm just trying to survive the coldest bedroom

In the country tonight
I'm just trying to survive the coldest bedroom
In the country tonight
The coldest bedroom in the whole wide world tonight
