

It Started All over Again

Vern Gosdin

We agreed it was over we'd both find another
We shook hands and parted as friends
I thought I'd forget you but today when I met you
It started all over again

It started all over again
I still love you now like I loved you then
It's too late for lyin' I looked in your eyes then
It started all over again

As we stood there together and we live forever
We laughed and you reached for my hand
I started to leave when you touched me and right then
It started all over again

It started all over again
I still love you now like I loved you then
It's too late for lyin' I looked in your eyes then
It started all over again
