

The Other Side of Life

Vern Gosdin

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now

On a bed with sorrow and tears for my love ones
Oh I wish I could tell them all the joy that I feel
Though my body is weary my soul is up lifted
My sins are forgiven and my Jesus is near

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now

Though my eyes are dim I can see heaven clearly
Though my voice grows feeble I will sing just the same
In my heart there's a song as I see the gates open
I'll sing forever in His joyous refrain

Praise God, I feel like singing
I'm on the other side of life now
