

Defining waves are upon us now
They're molding us in bad ways
We can defy the way that we turn out
Don't be afraid
Don't be afraid

The reality of this life hasn't yet taken effect
I'm too distracted by dreaming of what I wished that I had Money, cars, and houses
Monotony, has me chained to a track
It's the fact that I lack the act of attack to react to the track holding me back
It's the trap I attract and there's no turning back
I'll release all the needs that hold me
I'll retreat from the streets I've been roaming
I'll set myself free
Change everything
Until the world no longer knows me

I'll run away from madness
Quit my bad habits
Give up on sadness
And all things tragic
I don't care what it takes
I'm gonna change my life today

No lust for money
Or pointless desires
There's no time for fakers, the cheats and the liars
To experience what money can't buy
To look back at my life and be satisfied

Wake up wake up
Why are you here
Why are you alive
Wake up wake up
I walk these streets
With a purpose in mind bleh

I felt as if I walked these streets with no purpose

I'll run away from madness
Quit my bad habits
Give up on sadness
And all things tragic
I don't care what it takes
I'm gonna change my life today

Defining waves are upon us now
They're molding us in bad ways
We can defy the way that we turn out
Don't be afraid
Don't be afraid
Don't be afraid

I'll run away from madness
Quit my bad habits

Give up on sadness
I'm gonna change my life today

I don't care what it takes
I'm gonna change my life today (x2)
