

Half-Light

Vertical Horizon

I think I gave away the best of me
Now everything that's left is make believe,
Yeah have a look around there's nothing here
I'm just about to disappear

Take a breath before we touch
I wouldn't blame you if it's just too much
I've heard it all before it's nothing new
Go on I'll just be seeing you is it you
I can just barely see you

Half-light
I keep fading into the
Half-light
I know I've been here
Before and survived
But if you could keep me
Close in sight
In sight

Halfway
Closer still
But I'm still halfway
I'll take your hand
If you think it's okay
'cause I don't want
To lose what's right
This time
To half-light
To half-light

I guess it's no surprise I'm damaged goods
The fractures all remain misunderstood
I'm waiting for the truth to set me free
But every time it lies to me

Take it back 'till it's an epitaph
A thousand words become a photograph
I can't have everything 'till nothing's left

If something's not broken yet
I try again and again
'Till nothing's left

Half-light
I keep fading into the
Half-light
I know I've been here
Before and survived
But if you could keep me
Close in sight
In sight

Halfway
Closer still
But I'm still halfway
I'll take your hand

If you think it's okay
'Cause I don't want
To lose what's right
This time
To half-light
To half-light
To half-light

Each complication is an
All-time low
I'm sort of ready
If you're ready
Let me know
There's something chemical
In us and it's Just like lightning

Half-light
I keep fading into the
Half-light
I know I've been here
Before and survived
But if you could keep me
Close in sight
In sight

Halfway
Closer still
But I'm still halfway
I'll take your hand
If you think it's okay
'cause I don't want
To lose what's right
This time
To half-light
To half-light
To half-light
To half-light
To half-light
