

Caffeine

Verzache

Another one, lost love, heads up, I'm coming down
A long life will fly by in no time and I'm running out
And that's why I cut ties but these eyes are still crying out
Can't fuck with no one for some time, but I'll come around

I don't think I'll love
Nearly as strong as I used to
Smile is holding up
But it's cold and feels unusual

Excuse me, is this the best it's gon' be?
Only looking forward to the caffeine
And bubbles popping up on my screen
Nothing means much when

I don't think I'll love
I, I, I don't think I'll love
I don't think I'll love
Love

Another one, lost love, and this life keeps going down
So I've tried to steer mine between lines but it's spinning out
And I'd like some blue skies but these eyes are still crying out
Can't fuck with no one for sometime, but I'll come around

I don't think I'll love
Nearly as strong as I used to
Smile is holding up
But it's cold and feels unusual

Excuse me, is this the best it's gon' be?
Only looking forward to the caffeine
And bubbles popping up on my screen
Nothing means much when

I don't think I'll love
I, I, I don't think I'll love
I don't think I'll love
Love

Another one, lost love, heads up, I'm coming down
