

A Door Shuts Quick

Vetiver

You walked off saying you'd be back
A door shuts quick, imagine that
I didn't see where you'd gone, only your leaving
I'll never know now

Forever's just a day away
What's lost to time the mind replays
Had I known we would part, I'd things to ask you
I'll never know now

Regrets, last requests
All time allows
I'll never know now

Don't let it wear your spirit down
Lift your head, carry on

If by chance we meet again
Stories long from where we've been
What I'd give to hear more
More of your laughter
I'll never know now

What's coming apart won't
Fit back together anymore
