Built to Fail

I was giving you some kind of a present I was giving you, though you're more than i deserve And i was pointed to give you everything you need But instead i do whatever it is i please

And i was built to give you more than do now And i was built to show you more than i do now And i was pointed to give you the world on a platter But instead i just sit here and do nothing that really matters x2

You lift me up from The world of falling You kept me going And this is how i thank you x6
