

It's a Test, Pt. 2

VETO

You've got nothing to be scared of
You have no reason to cry
I am not going to leave you
You are not going to die
But it's a war that I am fighting
And I'm not going to give in
I have to tell the enemy
That she is never going to win

Everything was okay
Things were just as they should be
Everything had reasons
That I was way too blind to see
Everything was okay
Everyone was in their place
And everything was planned
And played out in the proper pace

Now it's your turn for the questions
Ask me anything you like
Ask me if I'm okay
And if I will be alright
Ask me how it feels
To be beaten and be tied
To finally let go
And come out on the other side