

Self-Made

VETO

Do you know that this is the end?
I know you are not going to get down on your knees you're not going to repent but hey!
you left me nothing so there's plenty of things to regret I was fighting but you left me for dead

There was a time when I saw light in you
when it was all about you but we're not getting closer we're just getting older we're going to perish in the flames and until you grasp what it is that you do everyone you need in life will fade away from you 'cause we're not getting closer you're just getting older you're going to perish in the flames

Is it worth it is there anything more I can say to make you see that you should see what it was that you we're doing to me but everything is different now and I'm not who I used to be well, the change is that I need you just as much as you ever needed me

This is what I'm dreaming of this is what I'm running from this is the end
