Vicious Rumors

I ask for hot and you give me cold
You want it young and I give you old You say one thing and I say another man against man, sister and brother

Crossthreaded history
the same words heard so differently
Crossthreaded misery

The words that are spoken seldom are heard they twist and they turn they're misunderstood Communication emergency
I'm screaming out but you can't hear me

Crossthreaded history
the same words heard so differently
Crossthreaded misery

You won't know until it's to late Time will tell the story creates A life of its own

Invincible, your silhouette Confusion is a special gift Hanging motionless it seems Attracted to you murderous teeth

Crossthreaded history
the same words heard so differently
Crossthreaded misery
