Escape (From Hell)

Vicious Rumors

Here comes the morning light
Once I would run away and hide
But not today

You and your heavenly scent
The light inside my blackened world
These horns of burning fire
Extinguished by your angelic smile

Away from all light
In darkness my strength is empowered by night
Angel you stole my kingdom of hate
I want you more than death itself
But I can't escape from hell
Now it's all too clear
I was the king of fear but not today
I don't feel the same

What have you done to me
The darkness starts to fade away
I need you more than all the souls
I took so endlessly

My curse is revealed
A new offer made
Has broken off the deal
What once was black shines in the light
I want you more than death
But I can't escape from Hell

You cast me out
But I pulled you in
On a collision
But this time I win
I wanted more
You wanted me too
Now I'm the one
Possessed by you
I am the black
Heart of the night
I won't go down
With out a fight

You went above
And I'm left below
Trapped in the Hell
With no way out
