

Throw Me Away

Victory

This distance might be the death of me even if its just been on e week

Cause I don't want to be, no I don't want to be alone.

And if I ask how you sleep at night would you say he sleeps by your side?

Cause you cant stand to be, no you cant stand to be alone.

So throw me away

If you think that its better off this way

My only regret is not having the chance to say

That I know Ive been cold but this summers been oh so warm

Ive always been good at writing the songs that hurt.

Remember all of those silly things?

We drove around just to change the scenes

Without a care in the world I rested safe where I felt at home

These changes we're facing will prove what we're made of.

So throw me away

If you think that its better off this way

My only regret is not having the chance to say

That I know Ive been cold but this summers been oh so warm

Ive always been good at writing the songs that hurt.

I know, I know, I know

You are the wind in my sails

I know, I know, I know

To you I never fail

But I cant call this home

So throw me away

If you think that its better off this way

My only regret is not having the chance to say

That I know Ive been cold but this summers been oh so warm

Ive always been good at writing the songs that hurt.
