

Earth Stood Still

VIMIC

Right now

The wise man believes in superstition
Heeds the warning
Hidden in the stars
The fool will scoff at faiths' tradition
Mock the mystic
Watch your world go down

Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
Watch my voodoo steal your vision
Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
The sky is tumbling down

Today the earth stood still
The gods had their fill of us
A time to heal
A time to kill
And the healing is done

The sacred left forsaken
Evil omen
Burning sun
The dark arts question the lights that guide us
Both will turn us into dust

Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
Watch my voodoo steal your vision
Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
The sky is tumbling down

Today the earth stood still
The gods had their fill of us
A time to heal
A time to kill
And the healing is done

Desolate
Desecrate
The deed is done
It's too late
Give in to the end
Pestilence
Reverence
The soul is numb
Penitence
No need to confess
Prophecy
Destiny
We're praying for our death
Visions of crimson blood
The final stage is set
Curtain closes

Such misfortune
Those unfavored
Blind to mercy

Sold their savior
Cold and empty
Housed in ashes
Blaming heaven for their actions

Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
Watch my voodoo steal your vision
Full moon, black cats, broken mirrors
The sky is tumbling down

Today the earth stood still
The gods had their fill of us
A time to heal
A time to kill
