

Hero

Vin Jay

I said I ain't no hero but I'll survive
I don't got a clue on how to save a life
I said I ain't no hero, not by design
I can learn to fly but I can't make it right
'Cause I ain't no hero

Bright soul in a dark time
Barely feel the beat where my heart lies
Don't wanna be the product of a scarred mind
So I been acting like I'm fine
But I'm sick of all the pain and sick of being depressed
Sick of dark thoughts I always try to suppress
Tryna stay strong but lately I been a mess
And it's hard to be the hero when you're the one in distress
But it's just my life, just my life
Always fall short of where I set my sights
And when I look back on it, I regret my life
So at the bottom of a bottle I forget my life
Should probably end this, right?
Because I got no one to call
Looking to the sky but my back's on the wall
My head's held high, still I feel like I'ma fall
Shit, I'm just hoping that I'm wrong

I said I ain't no hero but I'll survive
I don't got a clue on how to save a life
I said I ain't no hero, not by design
I can learn to fly but I can't make it right
'Cause I ain't no hero

But I'm holding onto faith still Learning from my mistakes, I know it takes will
I been running from the past, tryna chase thrills
While the pain builds, guess I can't erase guilt
But I gotta make a change
Gotta take a journey through the fire and the flames
Sick of living life, being silent and afraid
I'ma show my worth before they drop me in the grave
I was born to make a difference, born to break limits
Born to be the life for the broken and the timid
I'ma make the most of each moment now I'm giving
I no longer waste time just sitting round wishing
I renounce my pain while I focus on growth
Manifest love, start dwelling on the lows
Finally, stop pretending like it's outta my control
I'm the leader of my fate, I'm the captain of my soul
I'm fulfilling my destiny, know that eventually
If I keep going, I'ma get where I'm meant to be
No matter what I got, I'ma give it the best of me
And I'ma shine bright till the moment I rest in peace

I said I ain't no hero but I'll survive
I don't got a clue on how to save a life
I said I ain't no hero, not by design
I can learn to fly but I can't make it right
'Cause I ain't no hero
