

Paradise

Vin Jay

Think I finally found my place
Where I could waste away my days
Only time that I could feel this safe
I take a breath and I restore my faith

I been up, I been down
I been lost, I been found
I'm a beautiful mess
And my head's in the clouds
But I'ma show love
Every time that I roll up
Take control of your mind
And everything will be okay

Still, the truth is elusive, confusing for some
But your views are the blueprint for who you'll become
And there's too many humans refusing to love
Stop your stress, close your eyes, take a brother, soon you'll find

That this is paradise
Don't need more to make you satisfied
Nothing left for you to clarify
Look around and you're in paradise, paradise, yeah

This is paradise
Don't need more to make you satisfied
Nothing left for you to clarify
Finally feel like I'm in paradise, paradise

So I can recline, everything is gon' be fine
Everything I need inside me life is here with me
So I can recline, everything is gon' be fine
Understand the love inside your soul will set you free

So I won't cling to my pride, I spread my wings and I fly
Follow my soul in every moment, it's gon' bring me to life
So I won't cling to my pride, I spread my wings and I fly
Follow my soul in every moment, it's gon' bring me to life

Still, the truth is elusive, confusing for some
But your views are the blueprint for who you'll become
And there's too many humans refusing to love
Stop your stress, close your eyes, take a breath, soon you'll find

That this is paradise
Don't need more to make you satisfied
Nothing left for you to clarify
Look around and you're in paradise, paradise, yeah
This is is paradise
Don't need more to make you satisfied
Nothing left for you to clarify
Finally feel like I'm in paradise, paradise, yeah
This is paradise
