

Update

Vin Jay

Yeah, sometimes we get so caught up in tryna be successful that we forget to take a look how far we come

Go, woah, guess it's time to reset huh?

Yeah, focus on my goal, pursue my personal legend

I've realized what I'm worth and I've finally come to collect it

Life is too precious, I won't waste another second

So every that I wake up I hustle for what I'm destined

I'm coming up with everybody who believed in me

Finally seen the top, and I'm in love with all the scenery

Mind elevated, now becoming who I need to be

I gotta cut y'all off if you ain't on the same frequency

To make a name you got to sacrifice a lot

I'm the motherfuckin' best, I'm sick of acting like I'm not

Told 'em I'ma die a legend, watch a man devise a plot

While these other whack rappers only advertising guap

I was born different, and I'm about to break the mold

I'm only gon' surround myself with those who have goals

With infinite potential in my body and my soul

I could open up your mind if y'all could keep your mouth close

Aimed for the top and I fell in love with the journey

And never lost sight when all waters got murky

Dropped out of college, got paid like attorneys

This a whole the fame hustle, check the price up on the Jersey

The shit effortless, surpassing every mile stone

Fully independent, all these labels getting dial tones

My eyes closed, day-dreamin' on my flight home

A nine to five's illogical with how I'm switching time zones

This meditation I'm relieving the stress

They was plotting on my fall and now they see me progress

They were sleeping on the kid, I guess they needed some rest

But now I'm bout to wake 'em up, to witness me at my best

Yeah, I found my true potential and my grind became ruthless

Inspired those around me from the purpose that I move with

Me, myself, and I'll be the pieces to the blue print

Damn, this beat slaps, huh, guess who produced it?

It's yours truly, turn my life to raw beauty

When I opened up my mind like I'm tripping off Lucy

Trippin on flights, y'all are trippin' of groupies

And I know y'all hear me comin' like I'm lettin' off uzis

You move different when you know you got to have it

That everything you wanted starts appearing like magic

If all you do is hope, then no wonder you're so stagnant

You're a product of your thoughts and all of your daily habits

You got to take actions, cause every day is a gift

All my dreams came true the moment I made the switch

From a lost soul just hopin' to get rich

To a true divine spirit whose only focus is bliss

I never slow down, on my drive relentless

Cause results are the product of the time invested, all up

I don't struggle to tryna find acceptance

Cause I put no worth, only blind perceptions, damn

It's time to bring back the faith in my generation

And show them all the product of hustle and dedication

Never lose hope on the dream keep chasing

Everything you want is right around the corner, be patient
