

Forever Changed

Vince Gill

You put your hands where they don't belong
And now her innocence is dead and gone
She feels dirty, she feels ashamed
Because of you, she's forever changed

Too afraid to tell someone
Well you might as well just used a gun
She cries for Jesus to ease the pain
Because of you, she's forever changed

Can't you just leave the child alone?
I can hear the angels in heaven moan
God was watching and He knows your name
Because of you, she's forever changed

Whether you're a stranger or flesh and blood
There'll come a day you face that judge
You can beg for mercy but the truth remains
Because of you, she's forever changed

Can't you just leave the child alone?
I can hear the angels in heaven moan
God was watching and He knows your name
Because of you, she's forever changed
