

Hell Is A Dance Floor

Vincent Mason

Thought it was staying up 'til the morning sun
Letting my mind run on and on
'Bout what it was that made you give us up
And go looking for the greener side of the lawn
Thought it was drowning whiskey
And you steady missing my calls
But, damn, if walking in here tonight
Didn't just prove me wrong

Hell is a dance floor, watching a red dress
Spin around with someone new
And my heart's for damn sure breaking in my chest
Watching him fall for you
Part of me wants to leave this place
But I can't get the other half to look away
Every song's reminding me that I ain't yours
Oh, Hell is a dance floor

Thought I was in the clear, the worst was in the rear
But you took that flame and relit the fuse
'Cause here I am hearing our old song playing right on cue
And just when I thought I couldn't go there again
Rock bottom's got a brand-new view

Hell is a dance floor, watching a red dress
Spin around with someone new
And my heart's for damn sure breaking in my chest
Watching him fall for you
Part of me wants to leave this place
But I can't get the other half to look away
Every song's reminding me that I ain't yours
Oh, Hell is a dance floor
Oh, Hell is a dance floor

Never knew the kinda hurt that could come from some sawdust boards

'Cause Hell is a dance floor, watching a red dress
Spin around with someone new
And my heart's for damn sure breaking in my chest
Watching him fall for you
Part of me wants to leave this place
But I can't get the other half to look away
Every song's reminding me that I ain't yours
Oh, Hell is a dance floor
Oh, Hell is a dance floor
Oh, Hell is a dance floor
